The Cable --- A Determined and Gallant

Struggie against Failure. The transcript of Mr. Field's journal, which we are enabled to publish this morning, presents a deeply interesting, if not consoling statement, in brief, of the operations connected with the laying of the ca-

The main, central, melancholy fact in the journal, is reported in these words: "At 12:30 P. (August 2) the cable caught and chafed on the mouth of the hose pipe, (picking up a defective portion of the cable having commenced at 5:27 A. M. of that day,) and was, with considerable difficulty, removed, and at 12:35 it parted on board where it was injured, just behind the stop-pers, and in a moment the end disappeared in the water."

What happened before and after this are What happened before and after this are secondary matters. The cable broke on board, broke within sight of, and after five minutes of warning had been given to the operators, and "the end disappeared in the water." The catastrophe was followed, as Mr. Field succinctly describes, by nine days of strenuous and well-meant exertions to grapple for the lost treasure in the bottom of the Atlantic, at a depth of 1,950 fathoms. And if we could reach the same conclusions as Mr. Field respecting the acathoms. And if we could reach the same conclusions as Mr. Field respecting the actual results of the grappling business, we should yet have hopes that the cable might yet be recovered. Mr. Field's opinion is, that several times the grapnel caught the cable, and that it was drawn up toward the surface (on Thursday, Aug. 3,) a distance of 1,150 fathoms, when a shackle broke. Mr. Field did not, of course, see the cable thus partially recovered, but he knew by to mark the place of the partial recovery.

After an interval of bad weather, the grapnel was again tried—on the 8th—when graphel was again tried—on the sin—when the shackles broke once more. New shac-kles were applied on the 9th, and further grappling followed on the 10th and 11th. Once the graphel came up foul of its own chain. On the other occasions of hauling in, the rope or the shackles broke, And upon these actual occurrences Mr. Field's theory is based, to-wit: that the lost cable was partially recovered in sundry attempts at grappling, extending from the 3d to the

The accidents prior to the final break were The accidents prior to the final break were retaired with more difficulty than ought to have attended the operation. The hauling in machinery was exceedingly defective. The steam was constantly going out, and other defects that might have been provided against were visible. Still, with all these drawbacks, the cable, until the final parting, could be picked up and the necessary repairs made at about the rate of ten miles

If the lost section of the cable could be successfully grappled for—which is more than doubtful from all that appears in Mr. Field's record—there is still enough of the wire on board the Great Eastern to complete the remainder of the line—only 1,312 miles having been paid out on a stretch of 1,063 miles. We fear, however, that the enterprise, if it is to be carried to successful com , must be begun anew. Meanwhile e enterprisers will everywhere get credit for no common share of energy, determina-tion and pluck, and it is impossible not to regard the failure of their efforts with the sincerest regret, -[N. The Accident at Camp Barry, Washington, D. C .- Death of Miss Good.

The readers of the Press were yesterday morning informed of the sad accident which occurred on Wednesday evening at Camp Barry, Washington, D.C. From our Wash-ington exchanges of yesterday we glean further particulars:

On Wednesday evening Miss Eliza Ward, who resides at the corner of I street north and Second street east; Miss Mary A. Good, a relative, who was on a visit from Baltimore, and Mr. Joseph Chatham, started to walk to H street east, near the Eastern Branch, to visit a Mrs. Coleman, an aunt of the young ladies. About half-past seven o'clock they were passing Camp Barry, and had reached a point about fifty yards below the Bladensburg road, on the side-road leading to Benning's Bridge, when one of the ladies exclaimed, "I am shot!" and fell. When the shot was fired Miss Ward was in the advance, and Miss Good, who was leaning on the arm of Mr. Chatham, was following. Miss Ward had just stepped off a bridge spanning a small stream, and Miss Good was about to step off when the shot was fired. The ball, which was apparently from a carbine, struck Miss Good in the back, half an inch from the backbone, and two and one-half inches below the lower extremity of the shoulder blade, and passed entirely through the body, coming ou about three inches below the center of the right breast, and afterwards striking Miss Ward upon the shoulder, causing a very slight wound. After the shooting Miss Good was conveyed to Miss Ward's resi-dence. Atthe Coroner's inquest Miss Ward was sworn, but she knew nothing of the shooting, and could testify to no particulars, being very much frightened.

seph Chatham, who was with the young ladies, testified to the facts as above mentioned, and also stated that when the shot was fired he heard the report, and after Miss G od exclaimed she was shot, he caught her in his arms, and looked around, the soldier was ordered to shoot at him by his commanding officer. The soldier declined, but, as is stated, the officer threatenned, but, as is stated, the officer threat-ened to shoot the soldier if his command was not complied with. The soldier then fired, and the ball, it is alleged, took effect upon the person of Miss Good. These mat-ters will be fully investigated to-day.

A Woman Made to Talk after Being Mute Twenty-five Years--An Unparalleled Case.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, IND., August 18. EDS, GAZETTE: Ordinarily the "gift of gab" is too well developed in the female sex, and he that could be so fortunate as to devise some means to stop that unruly member, would be hailed as a public ben-member, would be halled as a public ben-factor; but there is, like an oasis in the desert, an occasional case where it is good that a woman be made to talk. Such a case having come under my im-mediate observation, and being one not easily accounted for by medical writers, and totally unknown to the M. D's., I think it important the particulars should have publicity.

About twenty-five years ago, Miss Permelia Barnell, who was then, and is now, a resident of Jacksonburg, in this county, and at the time about fifteen years of age, while attending a camp meeting in this visiting. cinity, and in the act of prayer, went into a trance, in which mood she remained for about eleven days, at the expiration of which time she was attacked with alpho-nia, and from that time until yesterday she nia, and from that time until yesterday she could convey her thoughts only by manipulation, having not uttered a syllable during the time. Being conversant with the facts above stated, and having noticed that a soldier who had lost his speech under the excitement of a great battle, and whose case had bafiled the skill of the experts of the army, was made to talk by imbibling freely of the ardent it was a source of purch gray. of the ardent, it was a source of much gratification to me to get the consent of the lady to try the experiment, as it will no doubt be a source of rejoieng for her numerous friends. Having procured for her a pint of best secale antiquum, she began to imbibe it about ten o'clock yesterday morning, and in ordinary time, using common parlance, became beautifully drunk. After lying in a comatose state for two hours, at which time she began to sober off, to the utter astonishment of all present, she began to talk, at first slowly, but afterwards with as much ease as if the gift had never departed, and this morning continues to talk as glibly f the ardent, it was a source of much grat and this morning continues to talk as glibly as if she was an adept in the matter. The case causes much surprise in this part of the county, and will no doubt interest a number of your readers, and mayhap some one similarly afflicted may, by proper application, be relieved. It may be well to state that Miss B. was, prior to her loss of speech, troubled with charge or commonly called

SAMUEL H. HOSHOUR. An Extraordinary Story.

The London (C. W.) Free Press tells the following extrordinary story about a man who was without food for three weeks, and who became a "living skeleton:"

An American named James Rush, em-ployed by our townsman, Mr. Hunt, at the sells Mill in Southwold, left his work last 19th July for the purpose of returning to his home in the States. On the same day he arrived at and dined at Port Stanley, but finding no vessel there which answered his purpose, he took the lake shore road westthe strain on the grappling rope that it was the cable, and therefore a buoy attached to a separate portion of the cable was lowered bood. Before climbing the bank he, being hot, resolved to refresh himself by a bath in the rippling waves of Lake Erie. He felt little sick in the water, and the next thing he remembers is finding himself naked on the sandy shore, with a consciousness of having drank ravenously of water to assuage his great thirst. He was a day or two getting on his clothes; his skin was cracked on his face and other places, and filled with sand, and he was so weak that he failed many times in the arduous labor of climbing the bank. This he at last accomplished only on Saturday, the 5th of August, when he, unable to climb a fence, made signs to two men in the field, who, fortunately fo him, had come to make a bargain abou some sheep. The two persons were Mr. Mc Pherson, farmer, and Mr. Blake, butcher Fingal. At first they took the solitary be ing for some wandering Indian, but, afte some deubts, decided, as they saw him fall that he must be drunk or injured, and ther resolved to see what he was. When they came to him, imagine their horror and urprise at the sight of a living skeleton-a veritable live shadow of death

This extraordinary case is to be accounted or by the supposition that Mr. Bush, who was a stout, hearty man, and had a sun-stroke and an attack of typhoid fever, during which he in some way had obtained water from the lake, the only support ex-cep. his own flesh to the demands of a consuming fever for seventeen days. His legs are now, as Mr. Hunt, has remarked, "like pipe stems;" but he is now carefully tended and cared for by Mr. McPherson, whose kindness will, we hope, soon restore this unfortunate man to health and friends and

The Prussians Waking Up.

The agitation in Prussia begins to assum more serious aspect, and King William and his ministers may find it a more dangerous thing to interfere with a man's dinner than to levy an unconstitutional tax. It is the last straw that breaks the camel's back. For years the Prussians have subnitted to Bismarck's tyranny and insolene with a patience which seemed to imply a otal want of manly spirit But they were judged too hastily. They had spirit enough, only they did't want to show it too soon. They were waiting for a suitable occasion for the grand display, and their patience has received its due reward. The occasion has arrived. Not content with levying unconstitutional taxes, insulting the members of the Legislature in their own hall, and governing the country in direct opposition to the popular will, Herr Bismarck breaks up a hamless dinner party by military force, and forbids all future demonstrations of the kind. This event causes a most pain-ful impression throughout Germany. Nu-merons workingmen's societies have bald merous workingmen's societies have held meetings in Belin and other cities, for the purpose of insisting upon the right of pub-lic meetings; and the three hostile political parties in Cologne, including even the Ul-tramontanes, are said to have come to an understanding, with the view of acting to irderstanding, with the view of acting to gether in defense of the position taken by the Liberals. In view of the grave and threatening complications of the Schleswig-Holstein question, and the possible rupture with Austria, it is surprising that the Prussian Ministry do not see the danger of forc-ing an already disaffected people into open

SMART Boy. - We saw at Randall's Island a little fellow aged fifteen, who a short ime since swam from his keeper. He was ollowed to New York, where he was found n the Albany boat. Seeing the keeper, he shot was fired he heard the repert, and after Miss G od exclaimed she was shot, he caught her in his arms, and looked around, and saw no one standing between them and the sentinel on duty near a building about one hundred and fifty yards off. Witness believed the shot was aimed at one of the party who were walking along.

What is above stated was elicited at the Coroner's inquest, but the jury declined to make up a verdict, and adjourned until to-day, when witnesses will be summoned, and a further investigation will be had. The reason of this was that it had been stated (not under oath, however.) that the party who fired the fatal bullet was Henry was caught, taken back to Randall's

A new era has dawned, and indignation rules at Salisbury, N. C. It seems that some six weeks since Miss Temperance Neely, daughter of an old and prominent citizen, shot and killed Galina, one of the family's female servants. Mrs. Neely was flogging Galina's child; and when the dusky mother came to the rescue Miss Tempe shot her dead. There were no witnesses to the act Miss Good, who was about twenty-three years of age, and the only support of her mother, who is without means died at twenty minutes of four o'clock yesterday. Her mother was telegraphed for as soon as her daughter was known to have been shot, but did not arrive until a few moments after. brought to a trial, as both the mother and daughter would have been jointly indicted, and then no evidence could have been obtained to convict of any crime, the testimony of blacks being worthless against whites. But Gen. Schofield ordered the young woman to be tried by a military commission, which has just closed its session with a verdict of walter.

It appeared in evidence that Galina was raised on the place, and had been a favorite household servant; that she was twentyfour years old, the mother of six children, and never married, even according to slaveholding customs; that she interceded to save her child, pushed Mrs. Neely away, seized it in her arms, and was making off for her cabin when shot. Mrs. Neely, on the stand, disclaimed any idea of personal danger, any only pleaded her daughter's sorrow at the act, and subsequent efforts to ameliorate the condition of things.

Except in the plea to the jurisdiction of the Court, and the objections made to the introduction of negro testimony, the council for the court. sel for the denfense did not allude to the changed condition of affairs in the State which the case indicated, only as the act of Galina—one from whom the accused had been taught to expect servile obedience—in laying violent hands upon her mother, was laying violent hands upon her mother, was urged in mitigation of the offense.

Military Commissions, in passing sentence, are obliged to guide themselves by the laws of the State in which the crime was committed. By the President's proclamation, all laws in force in this State prior to the 20th of May, 1861, and not since repealed, which are not in conflict with the acts of Congress, or the proclamations reacts of Congress, or the proclamations reacts of Congress, or the proclamations, regarding slaves, are still in force. The punishment for murder in North Carolina is death. The penalties for manslaughter are branding on the left thumb with the letter M, and fine-to either of which may be added imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding one year.

Spain in Trouble---Threatened Revolution.
[Correspondence of the New York Herald.]

PARIS, Aug. 5, 1865.—I have private information from Spain which leads me to anticipate a grave political revulsion, and perhaps a revolution in that country very

The Queen, who hates her present prime minister, Marshal O'Donnell, only accepted him as a pis aller, because she had arrived at the conviction that the intelligent part of her subjects would belonger put up with Narvaez, and she feared a revolution from one hour to another. Narvaez well knew that General Prim was constituted. knew that General Prim was conspiring against him, and that was the reason why he summoned him to appear at Madrid. Prim knew better than to obey the summons, and the first act of O'Donnell's ministry was to cancel it. Thereupon Prim, seeing the radical change in the ridical change in the ridical change in the ridical change in the radical change in the ridical change in the radical change in seeing the radical change in the situation, at once left Paris for Spain, where he now is, and preparing to play a great game. O'Donnell, by recognizing Italy, emancipating the press and many other liberal measures, besides still more numerous professions, has bid high for the support of the progressists against the clericals; but according to my letters, which are from a truly reliable source, he has not bid high enough, and the progressists have resolved o get power into their own hands.

I have little doubt that within a fortnight demonstrations will take place simultaneously in most of the principal towns of Spain which O'Donnell will not be strong enough to repress. He fancies that he is master of the army, but he is not. In Spain it is among the upper classes, which supply the officers of the army, that republican sentiments prevail. The lower orders, in general, are contented enough to obey the priests and civil powers that be. The up-per classes are now bent upon a revolution, and I have reason to think the time is at hand when they will achieve their object.

Prim is at present the leader of the move-nent, but it is quite possible that, as it goes on, he may be supplanted by somebody of more advanced ideas. Prim is a man of energy and ability—far superior to Espartero, who has been greatly overrated. Espartero's name will, however, probably be put forward as what the French call a drapeau, and Prim may very likely acknowledge him as his nominal chief, but, in reality, he will only make use of him. Olozaga, a very honest Liberal, and hitherto considered a very advanced one, will be one of the leaders of the pronunciamento, unless, indeed, he should hang back on the ground of its being too radical, even for

I think it very doubtful whether the Bourbon dynasty in Spain will survive this

A Big Indian Duel to Come off in Ne-

Johnson, an intelligent and no doubt brave Piute Indian, called upon us this morning and gave a very distinct account of the programme of the war which is on hand between the Piutes and the Washoes, caused by the bloody murders which were perpetrated last week near Gold Hill—two nard-working Piutes being slain by a Wash-noeite. The Piutes are now engaged in lending their wives and children down to Fort Churchill, to rendezvous there during the pending conflict. The battle-ground se-lected, Johnson informs us, is between Carson City and Washoe; and the stipulations of the result are, that if the Piutes are victorious, the hunting territory of the Washhoes shall belong to them; and if the wash-hoes are victorious, the territory now claim-ed by the Piutes shall be the property of the Washoes—this means the neighborhood the Washoes—this means the neighborhood noes shall belong to them; and if the Wash of Virginia, Gold Hill, Silver City, Dayton, and east of this region.—[Gold Hill News,

The Result of Obstinacy. Gen. Ames, Gen. Duncan and Col. Donnellan have recently returned from an official visit to Fayetteville and vicinity. The result of this visit, we are informed, is the substantiation of the fact that the negroes have been cruelly treated by not only civilians but the civil authorities there. Two negroes were tied up and publicly whipped by the sheriff, on the sentence of a magistrate in the town of Fayetteville. Other negroes were tied to trees and whipped, and then left tied until a storm prostrated the then left tied until a storm prostrated the trees, and the poor negroes fell with them, and laid a long time before being relieved. A Piece of Impertinence.

We are informed that on Tuesday even-ng, the 15th instant, a number of Gauls in this city held a somewhat exclusize celebration of the birthday of Napoleon I, at which the Mexican question was liberally discussed with their eau de vie. The tenor of their remarks, we understand, was that the United States dare not touch a hair of the inversely described to the control of their remarks. the imperial head of Maximilian—that 50,000 French soldiers under Marshal Bazaine were a sufficient guaranty against any impertinence from Washington—and that the said 50,000 would quickly dispose of the entire Yankee military establishment, and much more of the same gasconade.

Now if these gentlemen were drunk, or if they were all dancing masters, the remarks which we have to make do not apply to them. If they were sober, and otherwise capable of comprehending a national ques-tion, we would observe that, in the same proportion that their words become noised abroad, are they insuring for their Austrian protege, as well as French master, a most unpleasant experience. President Johnson has not enjoyed a moment's repose since he entered the White House, so great has been the pressure upon him from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the army and from the citizens, to incontinently pitch all the foreign legions out of Mexico, in ad-vance of the meeting of Congress, in whose hands constitutionally rests the sole power to declare war. Let the advocates of the Napoleonic idea in Chicago reflect upon the evils of war in general, if they have no he capacity to comprehend the fact that no European power or European alliance is strong enough to make successful battle on American soil, against the United States .-

Pardon Brokerage in Washington.

Among the new occupations or pursuit that have recently sprung up here is that of the pardon broker or advocate. Those who come here to obtain the Excutive clemercy especially such as have some money to spend, are soon beset by the "runners" of pardon advocates. These runners swarm about the hotels like flies around a collapsabout the notes like messaround a conapsed barrel of molasses on a hot summer's day, insinuate themselves into the society of the pardon-seekers as they register their names and lose no time in making it transparently clear that the way of the pardon-seekers is hard, that the ways of obtaining seeker is hard; that the way of the pardon-seeker is hard; that the process of obtaining a pardon is difficult, and that it is necessay that an advocate be employed to prepare ne petition and other papers.

Besides, the runners represent that certain gentlemen, "the advocates in whose interests they work, of course," have the entree at the White House and at the Attorney General's office, and are in those places very influential individuals, and cannot only expedit the not only expedite the process, but induce the favorable action of the President, and so on for quantity and quality, according to the idiosyncrasy of the petitioner. Let it be recorded for a precedent, that the so-called influential individuals are generally dead weight, and act as an incubus, rather than as an accelerating agent, when they appear in anybody's behalf. The process of obtaining a pardon is very simple and of obtaining a pardon is very simple and orief, and no advocate is required. An application to the gentlemanly and obliging clerk in the Attorney General's office is only necessary to enable any intelligent person to understand how to present his own ase; and, so far as the President is concern we can vouch for as pleasant a receptio to the veriest rebel of them all as to any of these self-styled influential individuals. —[Cor. News of the Day.

Applications have been made to the Freedmen's Bureau from the officers of railroad companies at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, for two hundred freedmen, who will be forwarded soon.

William P. Johnson, brother of the President, has been appointed Surveyor of Customs at Velasco, Texas.

The steamer Traveler, belonging at Detroit, with her cargo, was entirely destroyed by fire on Thursday morning, at Eagle Harbor, Lake Superior. Loss very large. The passengers and crew were all saved.

It turns out that the terrible story, telegraphed all over the country a few that the negro laborers at Aquia Creek murder the white men in that vicinity, was maliciously false. difficulty there commenced by the gross mistreatment of a blackman, and the blacks did nothing but defend themselves.

A Washington special says a letter has been received at the Freedmen's Bureau stating that the abuses practiced by the planters of Alabama, are being vigorously remedied. Gov. Parsons has appointed agents to take the testimony of the colored people, with a view of protecting their interests. Everything promises an abatement of the evil complained of.

The Norfolk (Virginia) Day Book is in formed that Messrs. Browe, Underdown & Co. will, in a few days, commence the her-culean task of raising the iron-clad Merrimac, known by some as the Virginia. It will be remembered that she was blown up on the 11th of May, 1862, at the time of the evacuation of Norfolk by the rebel troops.

Senator Sherman writes to the Society for organized at Cleveland, that high tariffs are no longer a question of policy, plain and obvious duty. A New Democratic Leader.

We have been wondering what the Democracy would do for a leader. Little Mac has become reduced to such an infinitesi mal as to be altogether out of the question. Governor Seymour has too long a record Vallandigham was so damaged by his last year's campaigning that he will not avail even for filling-in timber. Gen. Sherman was approached, but made haste to repudifinally to have a task as complicated and hopeless as that of Japhet in search of a father. But the mystery has been solved. Here and there a mild lunatic, here and there a perverse bundle of crotchets and stuffiness, can be found to declare it statesmanship, wisdom, justice, and the only genuine Democracy, the pivot, the tap-root, the central idea, the animus of Republican institutions. But broadly and unflinchingly put, the doctrine has nowhere a public sentiment to sustain it. That it is slyly crouching in the reorganizing political circles of the South is tolerably certain, but that it stands any chance of success, or of recognition, in case it should show itself without disguise in its own name, we very much doubt. That it may make trouble under the assumed name of "rights" is probable. The doctrine never found favor with any but the propagandists and devotees of the institution of slavery. And not in our day certainly could it have ever been more than a harmless metaphysical quirk The Form of a Pardon Granted by the for the amusement of debating societies, and the delectation of impractical dreamers, but for that institution. It became identified with the preservation and spread under the amnesty proclamation:

The reader will say perchance, "of course, State sovereignty was the madness on which secession based the apology and warrant for its crimes, and slavery was the inflamable material which fed this consuming infatuation. But what of it? Nobody denies it. The South admits it, and admits the overthrow of both the heresy and the abomination from which it sprung." The slave owners, as a class, have not vet acquiesced in emancipation, and their restoration to United States citizenship will never begin to take place till they do. They admit that the United States government has by proclamation abolished slavery in the rebel States. They claim to be convinced that slavery is done for, and the new State constitutions must recoged under the operations of the present tariff, nize and embody universal freedom. But as a rule, they lament the fact as a dire calamity to both races, and they don't abolish slavery on their own plantations till they are compelled to. They are, moreover, swift to receive and eager to promulgate every hob-goblin rumor of se cret armings, plottings, and devlish conspiracies on the part of the freedmen, and are prone to give diligent currency to the downright lie that negroes will not work except under compulsion. With homogeneous institutions in all parts of the INNOCUOUS GUNPOWDER.—A man named Republic, State Sovereignty may be permitted without molestation or hindrance to babble itself into idiotic senility. New Railway to the Southwest--Direct Route from New York to Louisville. The Washington correspondent of the New York News says of the proposed new miles long, of which 779 miles are over roads that are already completed and in operation, leaving only a gap of 260 miles to be built. The proposed route passes through Philadelphia, Paltimore, Wash-ington, Manassas Junction, Gordonsville, Vincennes in Indiana, and Centralia in Illinois. It is proposed to make use of the present roads in operation between New York and Washington, then to use the west end of the line, it is proposed to use the Ohio and Mississippi road from St Louis to Mitchell; then the Louisville, New served by the Government. Gen. Hancock This quality has made their enslavement ell to Louisville; then the Louisville, Frank-Albany and Chicago railroad, from Mitch fort and Lexington railroad, from Louis-ville to Lexington. Here the break occurs, and it extends from Lexington, in Kentucky, to Covington, in Virginia, a dis-

The opening of the proposed new route will depend altogether upon the construction of this link of 260 miles, which, in that Another project, and a more feasible one. is to connect Louisville with Washington by using the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, by means of the brauch from Washington to Point of Rocks, now in progress of construction, thus forming a continuous and on the Ohio river; and then using the Ma-rietta road, from Parkersburg to Ports-mouth, on the Ohio river. Then at the western end, using the railroad already in operation between Louisville and Lexingon, and the Lexington and Big Sandy rail road, now in progress of construction be-tween Lexington and Grayson. This would leave a short link then of only twenty-five miles between Grayson and Portsmouth to be built, which could be easily done in a very short time. This would make through route between Washington Louisville of only 708 miles, or 131 miles longer than the first named route above. One of the two lines will be selected, and the work on it commenced in a very short

A Loyal Georgian.

To the Editor of the New York Times: The writer of the following letter has been a resident of Georgia for more than twenty years, and has married and raised a family true to the Union. Enemies denounced him, and under false accusations he was arrested and sent to prison in irons. When arraigned for trial his accusers dare not ap pear, and nothing appearing against him, he was discharged. Afterwards he was conscripted and forced into the Confederate army, but he never fired a gun or raised an arm against his country or its defenders. Such men are heroes, and should be hon NEW YORK, Aug. 15.

GEORGIA, July 23, 1865. MY DEAR SISTER: I have long looked for letter from you or some one at the North, but as yet I have looked in vain. I have received but two letters in five years. We have had hard times here that you can never know of, because no one can under-stand them that has not been through them. I presume that you have heard of my being in prison, in the army, and in almost every other place for the last four years, all of which is true. I have been through the mill; I have seen it all. I have heard the

The Minnesota State Democratic Convention was rather a failure. But twelve counties were represented, and but one fully. CITY AND GENERAL NEWS.

A REBEL GENERAL BADLY BEATEN .-The rebel General Wheeler was badly beaten at the City Hotel in Nashville Monday night. The particulars, as given by the Nashville papers, appear to be that Wheeler, who is in Nashville for the purpose of giving evidence in the Champ Ferguson trial, was lying in bed in his room, which was entered by Col. Blackburn and Capt. Quinn, of the 4th Tennessee Mounted Infantry, who proceeded to give the ex-General a terrible caning. His cries attracted parties to his assistance, and he was rescued from his infuriated castigators. The cause ssigned for the attack is said to be that General Wheeler had threatened to kill Colonel Blackburn, and had called him opprobious names. Wheeler was so badly eaten that medical assistance was required The weapon used was a heavy washing stick, with which Wheeler's head was terribly contused.

Another account has it, that the two offieers were shown to Wheeler's room, when Col. B. inquired if he addressed General Wheeler, who replied that he did. Col. B. then announced himself, when Wheeler extended his hand, but at once received a blow with a cane, which was rapidly followed up, Wheeler retreating out of the room, shouting murder, Capt. Quinn following up the raid with a pistol in each hand.

STEALING A WATCH .- About three weeks since a Captain of a New York cavalry regiment sent a squad of men fourteen miles in the country to arrest a young man by the name of Adams, a rebel. While searching the house, one C. C. Howard, who claimed to be a detective and Captain, took a fancy to a gold watch that was hanging on the wall. After searching in vain for young Adams, this man Howard demanded the watch from Mrs. Adams. Mrs. A. refused to give up the watch, stating that it was left her by her deceased son. Howard drew his pistol and forced her to give him the watch. Since this occurrence Howard has been arrested by the military on some charge. The facts in regard to the watch were left with officer Amos Turner, who found where Howard had sold the stolen watch in this city. He had the watch identified, and proceeded with officer William Cross to the military prison and demanded the thief. Howard was delivered up and lodged in jail.

The Secretary of War has presented o each guest of the Government who was present at Fort Sumter on the occasion of raising the old flag on the 14th of April last, a very handsome memento of the interestiny visit. The gift consists of three large photographs, admirably executed, showing the ruins of the fort from different points of view, and beneath each picture is beautifully engrossed the name of the donor and the favored guest, with a brief statement of the circumstances connected with the presentation.

GODEY FOR SEPTEMBER.-Godey for Sepember is an unusually attractive number to the ladies. It contains elegant plates of the fall fashions, and besides a great variety of entertaining and instructive reading-stories, romances, poetry, etc. It is decidedly the best number of this truly excellent magazine we have received for some time. For sale by A. Gunter.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS .- We mentioned the arrest of three persons yesterday for stealing clothing at Madison, Ind. Officers Hipwell and Sweeney vesterday arrested Annie Stone, who travels with the parties, as an accomplice, and Lou. Harris, who had a large quantity of the goods hid. These men admitted Lou. Harris into their gang after arriving in this city.

Some of the papers calling themselves Democratic are trying to get up an excitement against the holders of the public bonds. The no-more-men and no-moremoney fellows can't forgive the patriots who, in the crisis of the rebellion, came for ward with their funds to sustain the honor and credit of the country.

Yesterday morning a horse ran away with a wagon on Market street above Preston. An old gentleman who was driving was thrown out, and one of the wheels passed over his shoulders, injuring him quite severely. The wagon was heavily loaded with vegetables.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT .- On Sunday, as the train was just leaving Murfreesboro for Nashville, with the 4th Kentucky Mounted Infantry, one of the soldiers attempted to climb from a car to the locomotive tender, but falling upon the track, was run over and killed.

Very recently Harry Leslie, in attempting to carry two buckets of water, together with other weights, across Niagara apon a rope, lost his balance, and almost by a miracle caught, and was saved from instant death.

There is a petition circulating in New York asking Gov. Fenton to remove the Mayor and other officers of the city government. The Governor has the power to make these removals, but the New York Post advises him not to do it.

STEALING A WALKING STICK .- William Diggins fancied a fine gold-headed cane in the upper part of the city yesterday. He appropriated it, when officer Jack Weatherford walked him off to jail. He will probably not steal a cane in these diggins soon.

MASONIC TEMPLE.—There was a good atendance at the Temple last light to see Miss Kitty Blanchard. To-night will be presented the Ticket-of-Leave-Man, with a good cast. Thursday night there wil be no performance.

The 4th Kentucky mounted infantry, Col. Kelly, arrived yesterday. They have been mustered out, and are awaiting final payment.

CHAMP FERGUSON .- This prisoner's health has been gradually failing, and it is necessary, in consequence, to convey him to and from the court-room in an ambulance.

ARSON.-Officer Charles Glass arrested in the lower part of the city yesterday Cathe rine Sheridan on the charge of setting fire to a building. SICKNESS.-We learn that there is a great Several peace warrants were disposed of when the court adjourned.

Illegal Voting at the State Election-Card from James G. Whann.

EDS. PRESS: I find in the Democrat as article headed "Election News and Election Frauds," stating that Alf. S. Kierolf's vote had been changed on the poll books from a full Democratic vote to one for the Abolition candidates. It is proper for me, as one of the clerks, to state the truth in this matter. Mr. A. S. Kierolf presented himself at the polls as a qualified voter; gave his name; it was entered on the poll book; his vote was challenged, and the two Demo-cratic judges, who alone could decide cratic judges, who alone could decide whether a man was entitled to vote or not, decided, one of them for him and the other against him. Mr. Kierolf then insisted upon his right to vote, and a controversy crose; he was sworn, and General Palmer's order was read, and he took the oath. This discussion lasted from ten to fifteen min tes. During this time, from all I can no emember, some Union man voted. name appears to have been recorded in the ne opposite Mr. Kierolf's name, and un derneath this Mr. Kierolf's vote was re and will swear he did aid and abet the reb els, and under Gen. Palmer's order was not a qualified voter. Here then is a point or Gen. Palmer to examine.

Be this matter as it may, I have swor and will swear again and again that there was no fraud intended on my part. As a proof of this, I have been living on Main street, fourth door above Tenth, for the las four years next preceding the election. removed from Main, above Tenth,

Eleventh street, between Market and Je ferson; that is, from one ward to the nex ward below. I did not vote nor offer to from conscience sake, being only forty day in the ward. Some men like to make capi al, if possible, from nothing; but I fea that if Gen. Palmer views this matter in the light of some others, he will examin into the manner of Mr. Kierolf's releas from custody, as it involves a principle which we may expect to be acted on in future elections.

James G. Whann.

A Lexington Item.

[For the Union Press.] On Sunday last, the "branch" as it is call d, the largest and most important colored church of this city, numbering some eight hundred members, with entire unanimity, voted themselves into the Methodist Episcopal Church, and were received in due form by the superintendent. Verily the Central Kentucky Mission is a live affair.

The Journal and Democrat.

The low, vulgar language which these wo papers are using toward each other day iter day is disgusting in the extreme, and disgrace to journalism. As corrupters of the young and polluters of the public mind, they should be excluded from circulation in decent society until they mend their manners.

SPECTATOR.

THE TREASURE OF THE PEWABIC .-- In of the Pewabic is a large amount of money belonging to the express companies, commercial men and passengers, and an effort is about being made to recover it. The wrecking steamer Magnet of the Home Insurance Company will probably be brought into requisition, and Mr. Pike, of Buffalo, will do what can be done as a submarine diver. The water is thought to be about 180 feet deep where the steamer went down, and Mr. Pike has operated successfully at a depth of 200 feet. To reach the safe of the Pewabic, he will be compelled to cut his way through two decks; and inas-much as a handsome reward awaits his success, we hope to be able to record for him a victory over the waters which have made graves for so many.

The Sayannah Herald of the 17th states that a violent gale occurred there, lightning striking in one or two places, rain flooding the streets, &c. ALBANT, M. Y. Aug. 22,-Mr. R. H. Giltt, one of the commet for Jeff. Davis; in a ote to the Albany Argus, says: Mr. Davis has no more information concerning his trial than others have. In a letter from Mr. Davis, dated the 4th inst. to Mr. Gillett he says, I am still ignorant of the charges against me, the source of them and the triounal before which I am to answer. Your etter gave me the first notice of the indictment. Mr. Davis requests Mr. Gillett to have a conference with Mr. Chas. O'Con-nor, his only other counsel, so they may be prepared for the trial when it may be brought on, with as little delay as the na-ture and importance of the case will permit. A direct application to the proper Department asking to be informed, if not improper, when, where and before what tribunal Mr. Davis is to be tried, remains unanswer-

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.-The fire in Water and South streets, yesterday, destroyed the Hick Bonded Warehouse, a very large six story building, containing over half a milfiremen were badly injured by a falling wall. The tea and coffee were mainly owned by Bennett, Sturges & Co., and principally insured.

A Bridgeport (Conn.) dispatch states that the coroner's jury over the bodies of the eleven persons killed on the Housatonic Railroad, on the 15th inst., has rendered a verdict that the disaster was caused by culpable neglect and want of proper caution on the part of the road.

The Tribune's Washington special says the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company having furnished the General Land Office with a map of the new line of said road, authorized by a resolution of Congress, approved April 25, 1862, instructions have been issued by the Commissioner to the local land officers at Kenosha, viz: That sections of the original route are still held in reservation as enuring to that State for the railroad; that the even sections within six miles of the original route are reduced to $1 25 per acre, and that the even sections within six miles of the new route are increased to $2 50 per acre; that parties who have purchased within six miles of the original line and paid $2 50 per acre, and not bought within six miles of the new one, their heirs or assignees shall be allowed to change such location to the new line.

Up to this date about 25,000 application for pardon have been received at the Attorfor pardon have been received at the Attorney General's office. Those who, in the opinion of the Attorney General, have just claims to executive clemency are duly recommended and forwarded to the President for his action.

It is said, on the authority of an officer of the Department of the State, that the signa-ture of the President has been affixed to less than one thousand applications for pardon.
The number daily announced as pardoned are simply the names of recommended and forwarded from the office of the Attorney General. The President has exercised the utmost caution and discretion in the matter of pardons and has invariably rejected all applications unless good and sufficient rea-applications unless good and sufficient reasons were produced to show the necessity for executive elemency.

The Post's special says the President is somewhat annoyed at the fact that certain persons have been accepting money for their influence in obtaining pardons. It is stated to-day he wished the fact known that he investigated each case himself, and only granted such petitions as recommended themselves to clemency. Some of those present asked permission to call again for further consideration, to which he signifi-cantly replied it would be some time before many more pardons would be granted. Story of the Great March: Diary of General Sherman's Campaign

THROUGH GEORGIA AND THE CAROLINAS. BY BREVET MAJOR GEORGE WARD NICHOLS, AIDE-DE-CAMP TO GENERAL SHERMAN. With a MAP and ILLUSTRATIONS. 12 mo, Cloth, $17

AIDE-DE-CAMP TO GENERAL SHERMAN.

With a MAP and ILLUSTRATIONS. 12 mo, Cloth, $175
This work is a complete, accurate, and graphic record for the wonderful campaign conducted by General Sherman through the heart of the enemy's country. Beginning with the pursuit of the rebel forces buder tieneral Hood, it traces, step by step, the subsequent proceedings of General Sherman; following the path of the noble army of patriots in their march from Atlanta to the sea, from S-vannah to the heart of South Caro ina, and thence to the capitol of orth Carolina; closing with the surrender of General Johnston.

The author, serving through all these campaigns on the staff of the commanding General, enjoyed peculiar facilities for obtaining information, and witnessing the varid incidents of the long march. Viewing, by the necessity of his position, all parts of the Grand Army; ridting now with this column, and now with that: constantly in the saddle, and always present at the most interesting scenes of the campaign, he has drawn a life-like picture of the events which occurred around him. His journals, carefully prepared at the close of each day's march, have furnished ample material for illustrating the bravery, the patience, the in-genuity, the unfailing good-humor, and the glowing patriotism of the magnifice at army which followed General Sherman—an army in which every man was a hero, whose deeds will live forever upon the page of history.

Major Nichols, possessing a keen sense of the humorous, has also recorded many of the comical scenes which attended the irruption of Sherman's army into that heart of the Southern country which the rebels regarded as wholly secure from he intruding presence of the ubiquitous "Yankee." He describes, with much gusto, the conversations he held with planters and women, slaves and "poor whites." The anecodes which spice the pages of the volume furnish in themselves a clear picture of the Southern country which to rebelse regarded as wholly secure from he intruding presence o f the South.

THE GAYWORTHYS is a mature story of American life. Read her charming Pretace:

"Of threads and thrums; because a simply story of this mixed, divine and human weaving, we call Life; wherein are threads,—lines lying evenly along the loom, and made secure and perfect with a filling; wherein also are many thrums,—ends broken, or dropped midway, or reaching out unfinished lengths beyond the web. Wherein the fabric seems, so often, faulty, where much seems lost, left suit, or wrongly joined; where correspondence is delayed, and full-matched beauty missed; while colors are confused; where the pattern, being vast, may never quite anroll to earthly vision; where Patience keeps her foot upon the treadle, and Faith must stand, with fervent eyes, beside the springing shuttle, knowing of breadths that shall be woven by and by!"
